PART III

INTRODUCTION

THE BIG IDEA: God made you who you are to show others who he is, and he made US who WE are to show others who he is.

One of the great struggles in every person is the search for identity. People will change everything about their lives, hair color, clothing style, and even relationships to change their identity into something more favorable. The truth is we are all looking for some form of identity. Some kind of course-setting meaning we can point our whole lives towards. No matter where you have been or are currently, you experience the struggle over identity on a daily basis. Even if it is not your current struggle, someone around you is fighting desperately to gain a better identity.

As we continue our study about Community in the church, we look next to the biblical picture of community. As the church, we must learn to lean the weight of our lives on Christ's teaching about our identity. As his earthly ministry grew, he showed his disciples and followers that their identity should become one with his. Essentially, Jesus said that we don't have to search anymore for identity, because it can be rooted firmly in Him.

1 Peter 2:4-10 gives us a great picture our new found identity in Christ. This passage shows clear insight into how God, through Christ, gives our lives new identity and purpose.

TOGETHER: LIFE IN THE FAMILY

1 Peter 2:9 explains that Christ's followers are,

"A chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for his own possession."

This is the identity we find in Christ. We are set apart for him and his purposes. Furthermore, because we are new in Christ, we are able to show the world more about who he is. Mercy Church, we are called to be a people of great mercy. We can show mercy to others because of the great mercy we are given in Christ.

As we conclude our series, "Together," we see a beautiful picture of a gospel community knit together in Christ. Our communities, friendships, and identity are firmly rooted in the finished work of the cross. The very reason we can be together and thrive under the Lordship of Christ is because of his sacrifice for us.
